As we have disappointed readers recently by too optimistic promises of availability of books, we have divided our list into two parts: books actually in stock at present which can be sent by return and (b) books on order which will be sent when they are available. It will be realised that this is a report of the current position and, as time passes, there will be a certain interchange between the two lists.

(a) Books actually in stock at present:-

- "Why Be Ill?" by P.S.Hetherington B.Sc. Definitely the best introductory book. 12/10d post free ($1.95).
"Straight Wire Questions" by P.S.Hetherington B.Sc. A practical book giving instruction and suggestions for the application of the most generally useful technique. 4/9d post free (75 cents).
"I Say Sunrise" by Talbot Munday 7. 9d post free ($1.15)

For the first time! A collected volume of Krishnamurti's talks entitled "The First and Last Freedom" containing 21 of his talks with a large number of questions and answers arranged under subject headings. With a foreword by Aldous Huxley. Price 13/10d post free.

Another new book of parallel interest is "Consciously Creating Circumstances" by Dr. G.L. Plummer, price 13/- post free. Dr. Plummer was a principal of the Society of Rosicrucians and Claude Bragdon, who writes the foreword, says "This innocuous-looking book by Dr. Plummer is
