

THE SECOND TERMINAL

NUMERO 31

Franklin S. Sullivan, D. Sen.
Entrepreneur

Well-- what do you know-- three months without a Second Terminal. And what have I been doing? Been auditing on the wooded slopes of Arizona mountains, shores of mountain lakes in British Columbia, in bedrooms of Los Angeles apartment houses. Well, this is being written in the kitchen of a Los Angeles apartment-- but heaven knows where your copy of it will be post-marked-- I sure don't. Still have a whole batch of letters forwarded from Farmington that have not caught up to me.

Just like I kept telling you, I have more fun than anybody-- and I should worry about putting out Second Terminals? Naaaaaaah. But some of you have paid for it, so I gotta be responsible. Duty calls.

But, you know, travelling around the way I do is very elucidating. Now, last year I was in Mass., and was bothered by the fact that there was a Northampton, a Southampton, an Easthampton and a Westhampton. But there was no Hampton to be north, south, east or west of! But this year when I returned thataway, I found Hampton, way down in Conn. Now isn't that a screwy arrangement. Also saw a road sign in Mass. proclaiming that Belcher is thisaway and Athol is thataway. So, I call it The Alimentary Highway. Saw two cars collide on the far end of this road. Darn near wrecked 'em.

Found people are sometimes sensitive. Then that live in Durango Colo. -- not even grease monkeys-- do not like to be called Durangotangs. People who live in Kanab Utah do not relish being called Kanabals.

Came up with a very radical theory which I could get no resort or motel operator to concur with. It is that tourists when they are home are just like anybody else. They simply do not believe it.

Get sort of bored on long treks tho. Remember going thru the samenesses of Illinois, idly noticing a can of lighter fluid in the door pocket of the car, idly wondering if a car could run on it. A while later, the Ghia sputtered from nogas, and I flipped on the reserve tank. You know, I passed station after station, and after another while she sputtered again. This time, NOGAS for sure. Boy, was I mad at ne! In the middle of this fury, I remembered the lighter fluid. I opened the full can, poured it in the gas tank. Darned if it didn't run! You know, by babying it, coasting on every teentsie weentie grade, I made it back to town-- up to 50 feet of the nearest gas pump-- three miles away. Used the starter motor to take it in the rest of the way. Oh well.....

One gets some really major cognitions while driving along. Like one day I started wondering, "Who collects the syntax?" Vice presidents, of course.

Get a varied diet, too. You have not lived until you have had a mess of goat chops topped off with pea pod wine. And then nooseburgers are strictly yunny.

AUDITING OUT THE REACTIVE MIND

The theme of this writing is: IF YOU REALLY WANT TO BECOME MORE ABLE, IT IS NECESSARY TO ADDRESS ALL THAT OBSTRUCTS ABILITY.

By this, I mean, addressing thinkingness alone will not do it. Thinkingness processes do nothing more than move the solids in which compulsion, other-determinism is ensconced away from the area of awareness. This is concurred with in the latest E-Meter book, wherein it states (middle of pp. 12), that if you continue the question too long the needle will get stickier, finally stick. Sure it will. You are pulling the mass back in on your own determinism.

We now have processes which will REMOVE the bank piece by piece, by all available evidence, permanently. One evidence over the years is in the fact that permanent change does take place when non-thinkingness processes are used such as the CCHs, SCS, etc. Similarly, I have not been able to find a single instance of re-stimulation in any case of the use of double terminaling and skying or grounding, in a year and a half of its operation.

By contrast, it has been necessary to bring out new, not always better, different processes to be run every few months to be run as the effects of the old one wears out. This is evidenced by the many APAs which run close to the top, in the "clear" range, then a few months later, it is back to or only slightly better than the initial one. That, dear friends, has been the story of our lives. It is of mine, too. I have been about every kind of "clear" from the 90 minutes, when I blow a heavy ongram in 1950, thru "theta clear" in 1953, on thru. Everything I said in my 1957 2nd Terminal article on "how clear, how long" still holds.

So, do not confuse what I am now saying with the biennial, "we have it all wrapped up," "we have arrived, etc. etc. and etc."

I am merely presenting to you that which Ron would have given you six or seven years ago, had not Dr. L. Ron Hubbard and the gang taken over. All org processes are those, and are limited only to those which do not endanger the recovery of PDHs. With these processes, PDHs and the ongrammic chains which hold them in place fall apart without directly addressing them. It is then, and only then that you can be free.

There is herein, not even much of a claim of originality. What I am doing is only slightly more original than putting together the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. Ron has given me the parts. Double terminaling is of 1952. He told us all about vacuums, solids years ago. I would be lying if I were to put this otherwise than within the frame of reference of Scientology--- the free Science of Scientology.

I repeat: The goals which we set out to achieve originally are now available. They will be attained by running off of the case everything that is on the case-- not just the figure-figure part of it. This philosophizing is necessary, however-- after the solids containing fixation, other-determinism have been removed. Playing patty cake with the bank will not do it.

I allude to "Vacuum Cleaning Procedure" which was introduced in Issue #30, as further developed with the content of this issue. It is not a wrapped up parcel, but it is the opening of the door into the area of a total Scientology, which makes full use of all of the data and knowledge which Ron has given us.

In this, the solids of the bank which, as symbols, compulsively control us are mechanically removed. It is the difference between moving a pail of garbage to the other end of the kitchen, or in taking it outside and dumping in the garbage can.

The evidence is piling up more and more every day: No consideration, postulate or opinion can hang in time, unless it is ensconced in a solid. Theoretically, we should be able to change our minds about anything, prior postulate or not. We can, if that postulate is not contained in a solid in the bank which bats us every time we try to run counter to it. We can figure-figure about it until doomsday, or key it out using thinkingness processes, but it will still be there.

The bank is visibly consistent of masses of symbols containing commands, misemotions. By misemotion, I mean a low level attitude which is fixed, is beyond our control. It is there and fixed because it contains not only the original emotion, but it also contains the energy of each time it has been keyed in, resisted since that time. Often, they contain everything that is in the same chain. These could be run out engrammically, but the same can be accomplished thru "Vacuum Cleaning Procedure" in perhaps one onehundredth of the time. It removes the misemotions, the commands, the mysteries, the unknowingnesses.

FURTHER DATA ON VACUUM CLEANING PROCEDURE

SKYING

I now use skying most often now, instead of grounding the terminals.

In this, the tube is run high into the air, or to the sun, or to Andronodus, instead of into the earth. If run only into the atmosphere, but SURE to explode the trash. There are those who will object if you do not.

DIRECT HANDLING, INSTEAD OF USING VACUUMS

When first running a terminal, the stuff which comes off will be totally of a reactive nature, having to do with hypnotic commands, guck symbolizing and containing low misemotions. It is herein not necessary to use vacuums.

The subject can be pushed in directly and pulled out. Same procedure as used otherwise for vacuum cleaning. Switch when subject matter becomes more of an analytical nature. When in doubt, switch, as more potent matter will come off, including postulates, etc. when vacuums are used.

IMPOSED HAVINGNESS

If a terminal is of such a nature that it is knowingly right there, the preclear literally is forced to have it whether he wants it or not, it is a case of forced havingness. Anything which has been impinged on the body is a forced havingness. It is not necessary to run havingness on these prior to handling the terminal, but havingness, conventionally should be run afterwards.

These are identified by the fact that the preclear has difficulty pushing them in. When this is encountered, and the preclear does not find it getting easier as the process is continued, stop it, and have him start pulling them out.

The mere fact that a terminal has been run for 75 hours or more in a thinkingness process does not seem reduce its solids. In fact, in many cases, it is these which have reached the state of imposed havingness.

THE PDH PHENOMENON

We herein speak generically. This is any terminal which causes anaton, followed by elsworthness, when run in the usual manner, with vacuum cleaning procedure.

When this occurs, ask for the command, or better, "Is this symbol telling you anything?" The command usually spills right out. Then run agree-disagree on it until flat.

The only accuracy contained in "The sad Tail of PDH" in Issue 129 of Ability is that if the PDHer is run as a terminal all will be found out. It sure will, if run by Vacuum Cleaning Procedure. When done this way, the preclear does it with certainty much greater than possible when using earlier methods which had to buck thru a powerful battery of forgetters, etc. So, when you have finished your course or intensive, check on all possible terminals.

Each PDH command is impinged on the body in the form of a black energy mass. At first or later, the body of the PDHer, when it is pulled out will contain these black energy masses which he installed into your body. When this occurs, handle completely, as below.

RESISTANCE POINTS, VACUUM POINTS

When having the preclear push in terminals, have him push them in from all directions into all parts of the body. Ask him to look for areas wherein it is more difficult to push them in. Have him uncock his body and look at what is there. You can either have him copy the energy mass that is found, and sky it, or use the subject being pushed in as the other terminal. I, at this time, do not know which is better, as either one will pull it out. It will be found that mockups will then go into that area with ease.

"BLACK CASES" ET AL

In at least a half a dozen cases-- particularly among older Scientologists who have had their dose of PDHes, thinkingness processes-- I am told that black or some other color fields interfere, etc. and that mockups are not visible. I then ask if they can get the idea that something is there. If they can, I proceed, say no more about it. In a short while, they are running "Vacuum Cleaning Procedure" with great certainty. Again, I never check on the quality of their mockups, but I know that they are seeing them.

PULLING OUT NOTHINGNESSES- CAN'T HAVE PHENOMENON

Sooner or later, the preclear will push in a solid, and pull out a vacuum, or will push in a vacuum and will pull one out. This is the "Can't have phenomenon." Have him place the concept of, "can have," "can't have" alternately in the space, until something appears in it. This will usually be something that really has a charge on it. So handle it completely.

COMPLETE HANDLING

Sometimes, when the solid is first pushed in, it will sometimes come out with black gunk on it. This will usually sky directly, without double terminaling it. If the second one still has black gunk on it, better double terminal it, as there is probably quite a reservoir there. But-- use the body as the other terminal. In Complete Handling, you use the body as the other terminal thruout. The command is, "Run a communication line from that mockup and allow it to go into the body or bank wherever it seeks to go."...."Uncock the body, and find what is at the other end of the communication line." When this is perceived, have him let it flow, and when it is sinnered down, as usual, have him sky it.

Quite often, something will be pulled out which has so much charge on it that it will not sky. This might be all the way from trying to sky it and absolutely nothing happening, thru having it stick in the tube, to not getting a clean explosion at the top. When this takes place, complete handling is required.

Complete handling procedure is that which must be done to an energy mass to reduce it to controllability, so that it can be directly skyed.

When this happens, it means that the energy mass is a composite consistent of a number of energy masses which must be handled separately. It is dissected by having the preclear: "Copy that energy mass."....."Push the copy into the original."..... "Pull the copy out of the original."..... "Pervade the copy and get the feeling it contains.".... "Does it tell you anything, or give you any commands?"..... "Sky it."

If the copy-- the primary copy-- does not sky well, have the preclear make a copy of it, check it as above as was done with the original and primary copies, having him sky it using the body as the other terminal. In only one instance have I had to use a tertiary copy, again as above.

A havingness check is always in order. Be sure to run agree-disagree on all commands. If the mass resists handling, reduction, it is simply that there is something else to be done first. Ask for missing considerations.

HOW LONG TO RUN A TERMINAL?

A rule-of-thumb is to run until the tone arm is no higher than its original position, for direct pulsing in. Then switch to vacuums.

Another indication is the misemotion contained in the masses will generally start from below apathy and run up thru pain. When this happens, switch to vacuums. You have run out the reactive considerations, etc. and are ready for the fixed analytical ones, postulates, etc. Usually the reactive ones seem to be other-determined, the analytical ones which are handled with vacuums are his own considerations and postulates which he has been stuck with. If he should flip back to apathy, you have been on an inversion.

If you push in solids directly for too long, the preclear will start pulling stuff in from allied chains. Anything that is removed from the bank is good, but this is straying from the subject of the selected terminal.

How long can you run "Vacuuming Cleaning" itself? How high is up? I have run it past serenity. This is an interesting thing to do, perhaps once with each preclear, solely for his understanding. But running everything this high seems to me at this writing to be a bit like going up the pole. I will deal with this in future discussions.

GOALS OF VACUUM CLEANING PROCEDURE

Some time ago, Ron spoke of a level called "Untrappability." Now, this level, or better, gradients thereof makes sense to me. I simply do not dig this clear business. A person is untrappable to the degree that he is Theta Determined. Also, when I say "traps" I mean ALL traps. A person is trapable to the degree that he becomes dependent upon. ANY PERSON OR ANY GROUP THAT SAYS, "YOU DO AS I/WE SAY. I/WE WILL DO THE THINKING FOR THEE, is operating a trap. Anything that pushes you toward ANY fixation is to that degree operating a trap. The only thing which can bring this about is the impingement of the solids of the bank. Raus mit om.

SELECTION OF TERMINAL

Corroction to Issue #30. The terminal that snaps in the fastest is not always the one that snaps in the fastest.

I usually select a terminal that is most pertinent to the preclear's goals. Sonotimes it is necessary to run a few questions of straightwire in order to find this. Present tine problems interfere with the running of any process which does not pertain to it. The desire to be elsewhere, the feeling that he should be doing something else, as we all know, grossly interfores. But, this phenomenon is gradient. If the preclear to someextent has his awareness on something other than the subject matter of the process, the process to that degree does not run.

The running of a process is like an SCS cycle of action, as I have previously stated. This will be denoted in the preclear's goals and the answers to straightwire questions.

SYMBOLS AS TERMINALS

The preclear very quickly translates almost any real terminal to a symbol, in running it. Recently, I have been asking the preclear to find a symbol for the terminal, and using it immediately-- and with good results.

When that which is pertinent is a condition, it can be run by asking for a symbol for this condition. The obvious ones are the ones of unknowingness, or unconsciousness, mystery, eatingness, sex, Another good one is stopped lookingness, stopped thought, for invalidation, disapproval, or anything on the GITA list.

With the use of symbols, in this manner, there is nothing that is too hot to handle, if the preclear can mockup the symbol. I have used terminals that produced a vicious rise, and really got a lot of work done. Rises have been explained in terms of the process of the week so far. They mean, no responsibility, witholds, etc. It is just as accurate to say that drops are that which pertains to this present identity, rises that which pertain to our Thetan activity, or higher, past identities. Thinkingness processes have as a purpose to put the preclear's awareness more and more into the present identity-- which is more controllable. The purpose of Vacuum Cleaning Procedure is to assist the preclear to gain awareness of himself as a Thetan-- so rises are used, as they pertain to the preclear's goals and to his answers to the initial straightwire questions.

DREAMS

About a day before an intensive ended, my preclear told me about a dream of the evening before. She dreamed that she woke up one morning and found that someone who looked something like me had taken all of the furniture out of her house, put in brand new, and had completely re-arranged everything else. She went to the telephone to call the police, and it fell apart. Rest of dream was her vain attempts to get the police. Many details.

I stayed over a couple of days extra on my own time for research, and checked most of the main items in the dream, using Vac. Clean. Proc. Every single one of them had a terrific charge on them. As night have been anticipated, most of it was on the reactivesside, but heavy.

I plan on hereonafter asking the preclear if he has any recurrent dreams and using the subject matter as a terminal. Will let you know if this guck well continues to produce.

SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO AUDITORS

I tell each preclear that if I catch them putting their mockups of flows anywhere near the auditor's body, I will report him to The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Auditors. Getting in the middle of one of these things is not pleasant. That is an understatement. Recently while I was being audited, I had a mockup of a big machine that told me that I should "Do nothing," off to my right. A tomcat wandered into the room, blundered right into the nearside of the mockup, yowled in agony, ran around a chair to get back out the door he came in. In doing so, he hit the other side of the mockup-- another yowl of agony, and he got. Three days later the cat's mistress had to carry him in out of the woods to bring him home to feed him.

I recently audited for over 200 hours of this without being audited. When I was, the stuff flowed up in a steady stream up the tube for over 20 minutes.

I gotta take that back. I was run on Joburg -- 3/4 hours to flatten to 6.0 sensitivity, and expanded prehav scale, by a highly trained franchised auditor. Was run on "Creativity" level.... and this with all that guck hanging onto me.

Just about everyone yet who spectates the running of Vac. Clean. Proc. or PDhes falls asleep. I always have to take a snooze after a day's auditing. PC is usually bright as a daisy, except when PDI anaten, elsworthness is contacted.

GAMES UNIVERSE PROCESSING

For some time, now, I have been writing about the Games Universe, as the second of the four universes, which are: 1. Creative Universe, 2. Games Universe, 3. Physical Universe, and 4. Reactive Universe. It is the area wherein we duplicate the physical universe parts which we consider to be our playing field. It is the seat of our Theta-Determinism. Up to recently this has been just theoretical.

Then, one evening, I had a preclear, "Mockup _____.".... "Admire it until it disappears."..... "Push the space of the vacuum into yourself." After a while, the preclear said, "There seems to be a space that I am pushing these all into." As we continued, he got better and better reality on it. When I asked him if this was his games universe, he got a sizable drop. This preclear had not read about this theory, and no one had discussed it with him. A second preclear, who had read about it found the same. A third one, in running regular vacuum cleaning pulled out a cube with eight anchor points, as in spaction, said that it had a good feeling, and the command was, "Let's get going." I then ran, "Mockup something you would like to put into your games universe." "Admire it until it disappears." "Push the space of the vacuum into your cube and make it real." (Technically, I should have said "actual" instead of "real.")

We both cognited that this was a drill, rather than a process, and could very well be done by the preclear, alone. This is exactly what a person does when he as Theta-Determinism builds his own games universe.

When the games universe is collapsed, that chair is there, because that chair tells you it is there. You have quantitative certainty, certainty by impact that this is true. You might be a good Scientologist, and say that it is there because I put it there-- but until you knowingly reconstruct your games universe, you are just a 'sayin' it. It is solid to you only because you are resisting it. You can truly own it only when you are able to accept it just as it is. This is accomplished by admiration.

BASIC ASSUMPTIONS.. Re: Ability 131

"The entire secret of all overt-withhold mechanisms is"---- the valence of WHO did it, and the valence of WHO said, "I did it." Optimunly, it is the Thetan himself who is addressed in an auditing session, replies to the command. So, the Thetan says, "I did it. I am bad cause. I drowned my little brother in the well." But, how could this be? In the same article it quotes that man is basically good. Maybe it wasn't I as a Thetan who did it. Maybe it is just part of a game. But if it is just part of a game, it is not an overt act, and there would be no use running it in the first place. I can't take the responsibility because I am basically good, so something else must have done it. Maybe it was because he did something to me. Maybe, it is just my present identity that did it. Maybe it was stimulus-response, a fit of tempter. Maybe...maybe...maybe... But the only certainty is that I did it. I keeps on saying so, becomes more and more convinced as the process runs that the valence I is the bad cause that has done all of these bad things. This I is ME, without valence, IS only bad cause that cannot be responsible for my own actions, because everything I have done is bad. without justification. Nothing bad has ever been done to me. I just do bad to others.

Ron has told us thru his KNOWINGNESS to run both sides of a dichotomy, thereby understanding truth, becoming free. Dr. L. Ron Hubbard now tells us that his "research" tells him to run one side only, to not be ANY valence. Sure they become "kind and ethical," but most importantly, they are obedient. They become tractable because they are afraid to BE. If they ARE, they will be bad cause. So, they do everything org says, no matter how ridiculous it might be.

Fun, pleasure takes place as we are able to change valences, not be stuck with any of them. A guy gets real serious the moment he is stuck with a valence-- even of being a Scientologist. A compulsive valence denotes a shortage of valences. Says I, the more the merrier-- up to the level of optimum randomness. These are the games the Thetan loves.
