

THE SECOND TERMINAL

NUMERO 33

Franklin S. Sullivan, D. Son.

SIMPLICITY

During the Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures, Ron represented TRUTH in the form of a triangle of equal sides, with one angle pointed upwards. Upon this point was the single basic truth of existence, perhaps an absolute, or as close to an absolute as is attainable. Below this is the next highest order of relative truth. Then, as one recedes downward, are found, progressively, or better-- regressively,-- lower and lower orders of relative truths. Further, as we drop downward on the triangle, and it broadens, the volume of, complexity of the data of truth increases. They become, more and more, something "about" a truth, less and less the truth itself.

Thruout the years, this basic data has been alter-issued, lower orders of truth exaggerated in importance, out of all proportion, to the extent that, today, we have almost lost sight of that which Scientology basically is, and the goals that we originally sought to achieve.

These goals are most primarily expressed in the Theta-Mest Theory, presented in Science of Survival, By L. Ron Hubbard. For a complete understanding of that which I am referring to, you should read or re-read at least the entire first chapter. But, the following, to be found on page 5 is most pertinent:

"Consider that theta in its native state is pure reason or at least potential reason. Consider that MEST in its native state is simply the chaotic physical universe, its chemicals and energies active in space and time.

"The cycle of existence for theta consists of a disorganized and painful smash into MEST and then a withdrawal with a knowledge of some of the laws of MEST, to come back and smash into MEST again.

"MEST could to considered to be under onslaught by theta. Theta could be considered to have as one of its missions, and its only mission where MEST is concerned, the conquest of the physical universe. MEST is under raid. THETA is doing the raiding.

"THETA survives by conquering MEST and retaining the conquest. Theta may have numerous other methods of survival but they do not apply to this particular physical universe where we are situate.

"The survival of theta depends, as it applies to this universe, on changing MEST and organizing MEST."

Still keeping it simple, with MEST could be included all other-determinism. Most centrally could and should be included all that which deters the Thetan from acting and operating on his own Theta-Determinism. If we do not do that which assists the Thetan to become more Theta-determined, to improve his game condition status, pleasure-- in terms of interest, aspiration, adventure, we are doing something that is afield from our original goals

So, the Thetan sallies into a mess of MEST. If it is not so interesting, is too tame, Ron has called it minus randomness; that is randomness that is less than optimum for the interest in a good game. If the level of motion against the Thetan, which Ron calls counter-effort, is greater than his tolerance level, Ron refers to this as plus randomness.

Again, I refer you to the early data which IS Scientology. I now refer to the Axioms of 1951, as printed in "Handbook For Preclears, By L. Ron Hubbard. Again, for a clearer understanding of that which I am speaking of, it would be a good idea to re-read all of them. The following are selected because they seem particularly pertinent.

Axiom 115-- SELF-DETERMINISM IS THE THETA CONTROL OF THE ORGANISM.

Axiom 94-- ANY COUNTER-EFFORT WHICH MIS-ALIGNS THE ORGANISM'S COMMAND OF ITSELF OR ITS ENVIRONMENT ESTABLISHES PLUS OR MINUS RANDOMITY OR, IF OF SUFFICIENT MAGNITUDE, IS AN ENGRAM.

Axiom 109-- BEHAVIOR IS MODIFIED BY COUNTER-EFFORTS WHICH ARE IMPINGED ON THE ORGANISM.

Axiom 138-- ABERRATION IS THE DEGREE OF RESIDUAL PLUS OR MINUS RANDOMITY ACCUMULATED BY COMPELLING, INHIBITING, OR UNWARRANTED ASSISTING OF EFFORTS ON THE PART OF OTHER ORGANISMS OR THE PHYSICAL (MATERIAL) UNIVERSE.

"(Note) Aberration is caused by what is done to the individual, not what the individual does, plus his self-deter about what has been done to him."

Also, particularly pertinent are, nos. 57, 58, 66, 69, 77, 80, 85 thru 93, 96, 99, 103, 106, 108, 116, 124, 125, 130, 162 thru 166.

But, the simplicity is: THAT WHICH ABERRATES IS THAT WHICH INTERFERES WITH THE THETAN'S DETERMINISM, HIS GOALS.

MORE ON VACUUM CLEANING PROCEDURE

To begin with, I wish to re-re-repeat: There is nothing which happened in the past which can effect a being in present time, unless it is ensconced in a solid. Dispose of the solid, and the aberration becomes mere recall. These solids alone, form the basis of aberration. You know, the more I re-re-re-re-re-check on this premise, the truer it appears to be.

Significances mean absolutely nothing, excepting when you use them directly as such. For example, if you can look at blackness close enough to pick out a speck of it, just put the concept of "significance" on it, and it changes immediately into a full blown facsimile. If you are able to put the concept of "no significance" on a facsimile, it will just curl up into a little speck of blackness.

But then, I now give you axiom 99-- THETA FACSIMILES CAN RECOMBINE INTO NEW SYMBOLS. When they do, as on an engrammic chain, it is not quite that simple. They join up with all of their kinfolk. You see only one of them, but there's a passel of them hiding in the bushes.

So, you start out with the apparent terminal, give the command:

"Copy _____."

"Push the copy into the original mockup."

"Pull the copy out of the original mockup."

"Tell me what comes out."

So, you take what came out and tell him to push it into the original, pull it out, push it in.... Well, after a few times, the thing he brings out starts to get really shopworn looking, then gucky looking, and when it comes out just plain guck, have him flow the guck up a mocked up tube, as in "skying" see Issue #31. I have had that stuff flow up and out like a barrel of far was on fire, for almost an hour.... and every speck of smokoy guck is a facsimile. Ron once said that there were billions of facsimiles in the bank. This, I believe is a ~~legitimate~~ fib. There are trillions of them.

This can be run, as described in "COMPLETE HANDLING" in Issue #31. I pay little attention to havingness, now, unless the preclear pushes something in and cannot get it out.

When it is obvious that that which is pulled out has quite a bit of charge on it, you can matchod terminal it, sky it, and mock it up again. If it works, you can just matchod terminal it to take some of the charge off, and then proceed.

Sometimes, they push the copy in, and the same thing comes out, without change. This may be because there is too much charge on it, so matchod terminal it, as above. It may also mean that the preclear is using a machine, or method. This is most often found in mystics, or Scientologists who have had too much Step 6, thinkingness processes, have a "repetitive" machine set up. Machines break down, but, it may be necessary to ask them to imagine something different coming out, than what he pushed in. When he does this several times, it breaks up the machine.

Then, there are the times that you push something in, and "nothing comes out," and a nothing, a vacuum really does come out. This is, as far as we can tell, a can't have situation. The preclear can usually tell you, if you ask him, whether or not the mockup stayed in (in which case, remedy havingness, as above) or whether "nothing" came out. In the latter case, have him put the idea of "Can have" into the vacuum. The "can't have" subject will then appear, as a solid in the vacuum.

Another antidote for the above is to ask the preclear to put the concept of "no significance" in the mockup. Actually, the preclear-Thetan, does not care what the significance is. All he wants to do is get rid of its compulsive effect upon him.

Make darned sure that it does burn or explode on the far end of the tube. You will soon get the notion that someone is mad at you, if you do not.

If the preclear constantly pulls out most objects, there is a machine there that is adding significance to the mockups. I have found that this machine does not wear out easily. Again, ask him to put, "no Significance"

Correction on COMPLETE HANDLING, Issue #31. When it comes out with guck on it, push it in again. The next time you pull it out, it will flow up the tube, continuously, as referred to above.

So far, the following terminals have had to be run on every preclear I know of: religious symbols, especially crosses, being "brides of Christ." The latter really louses up 2nd dynamic this lifetime; hypnotists or eyes; if a Scientologist, everything having to do with org, classes, auditors, and each member of staff; then of course there are the usual mamas, papas, etc. Do not overlook machines. Use commands such as, "Find a machine which might restrict your (lookingness) (knowingness) (communication) ability" for example.

O.T.? WHAT IS IT?

There has long been fostered in Scientology some sort of guff to the effect that there is something mysterious about operating thotan-- as if a thotan was one, or was not one, with no gradients in between. I have some time ago defined an operating thotan as a thotan who operates. Operates to what degree? To the DEGREE that he is an operating thotan. My gosh if you have an original thought-- YOU did it, and to that degree you are operating. If you Theta-determinedly make a mockup, you are really cutting the rug or the flying carpet or something. That is really operating!

There is a weird superstition that must of been conjured out of some spilled witch broth, to the effect that you have to be "clear"-- whatever sort of non-gradient that is-- before you can even imagine thinking of dreaming of doing any gradient of operating as yourself as a thotan. NUTS!

You see, if everybody left you alone, and you did not have a lot of facsimile-guck splashing you, you would do it just naturally. There is one thing certain. You will never get any closer to it by doing something else. You will get there by heading that direction, by being yourself and doing little bitsy thotan operation doingsnesses, then bigger and bigger ones, more often and more naturally.

We used to do this when we practiced Creative Processing. Then came this silly O.T. concept and Thotan doingsnesses and awarennesses began to get scarce, then they got scarcer and scarcer. By now Huborg is doing its damndest to convince us that it is actually dangerous to BE and DO as ourselves.

Becoming trapped is not an accident. A thotan operating totally as himself cannot be trapped. He can as-iss anything he wishes to as-iss. A somethingness that he considers himself to be, however can be trapped. He considers himself trapped to the degree that he considers himself to be this somethingness.

Of course, the easiest thing to trap is a body. You can buy body traps in a hardware store. Between the physical body and the thotan, himself exist many gradients of trappability. For example, if a person considers himself to be a this life-body identity only, he is easily trapped by the religious implantation, or cult implantation such as is imposed by Hubbard's Witnesses. Present Huborg processes address only the present body-personality, tend to atrophy the thotan's control over same. What the processes do not accomplish on this line, the PDHos really do accomplish. This is a generalization, but supporting data follows. Actually, a lot of what has already been written supports it.

Conversely, the more that one operates as himself, creating his own mockups knowingly, the less trappable he will become. The more aware he is the less trappable he becomes. No process I know of which has been issued by Huborg in the last several years, at least, in any way enhances a being's ability to BE and OPERATE as himself, the thotan. Most of them depreciate that ability. This can be observed by just looking at the results of Comfort-Controllability-Happaness processing. They have traded in their theta-right for a mess of Hubbago.

PAST LIVES DEBUNKED

There have been extant and rampant a lot of malarky going around to the effect that we live more than one life. We live only one life, and that is this one. Of course, we have had many, many past bodies, but this is just incidental. We have had many past games, which is more important. We have had many past identities. This is really of consequence and interest.

The above truth is a whole more than just a semantic trick. You see, if you do consider that there are past lives, that this body-span-of-time is, from some degree to totally, all that is really real; you, to that degree consider yourself to be but a "this lifetime" identity. It means that he puts up a wall. Everything inside of the "this lifetime wall" he identifies himself with. He has become sufficiently aberrated to believe that everything outside of this wall is, from something too terrible to look at, to just interesting data.

The same people who deny that they are a physical body still have themselves identified as a this-lifetime entity, and identity. Actually this division is as categorical and artificial as the setting up of chapters in a storybook.

From early in a P.E. course, we learned about cycles of action. We cause minute ones with each body movement, for example. There are, in increasing span of time and magnitude cycles of action ranging from these tiny ones to those which extend over most of a bodytime, like a career or a marriage. The occupation of a body, itself, is a still longer cycle of action. The most interesting ones are those which extend way beyond the present body time span.

To the extent that we consider ourselves to be but a present body identity, these longer cycles of action are not available to us. To the extent that we are willing to and do become familiar with ourselves as our true beingness, a thetan, these do become available to us. Wherein interference, usually in the form of betrayal, is not present, a Thetan's fun consists of the completing of cycles of action. It is in these cycles of action that we find manifest his true Theta-Determinism. The basis of aberration is in these interferences with his cycles of action, Theta-Determinism usually in the form of betrayal.

Axiom 164, in Handbook for Preclears, by L. Ron Hubbard, reads:

THE RATIONALITY OF THE MIND DEPENDS UPON AN OPTIMUM REACTION TOWARD TIME.

DEFINITION: SANITY, THE COMPUTATION OF FUTURES.

DEFINITION: NEUROTIC; THE COMPUTATION OF PRESENT TIME ONLY.

DEFINITION: PSYCHOTIC, COMPUTATION ONLY OF PAST SITUATIONS.

Rationality and ability are co-functional. They are, as per Ron's teachings, the computation of futures, operation in present time, and using--freely reaching toward and withdrawing from the past as recall.

A being is as well off as he is able to perceive for himself, evaluate his perceptions, decide upon an optimum course of action, cycle of action, employing both present, and recall of past data. He can then employ effort, (Ron: "The physical force manifestation of motion.") to command the effecting of the action, can act, and Theta-Determinedly create an effect on the physical universe. (As per Scientology, 1954; Axiom #10.)

That, again is the SIMPLICITY of it. If what we are doing does not lead to the effecting of these purpose, I do not believe that it is Scientology, but some alteration, perversion of Scientology. I avow to you that what I am doing and that all that I will do, will be in accord with the assisting of myself and others toward attaining the above purposes.

GOALS AND PROBLEMS

"There is a spirit of play which has to be recovered for your preclear. Unless you understand this, the guy's got no goal. One of the reasons you see a Theta Clear hung up as exteriorized and stable outside of his body, but no higher up the line, is that he doesn't find any reason to do anything. 'There's no goal.' He says. Well, so what! 'It means I would dissociate myself from all my friends if I went on and did all these things, so the best thing for me to do is just stay out here and be a little freaky.'" L. Ron Hubbard, Philadelphia Doctorate Lectures.

Ron felt that the establishment of present time goals is essential to ~~any~~ ~~clearing~~ approach. Correlatively, any goals process is as good as it helps the preclear establish HIS OWN THETA-DETERMINED GOALS IN PRESENT TIME. Conversely, it is as damaging as it reduces these present time goals. This is an indictment. Up to now, the only results I have observed from the running of Goals (better name: no goals) processing is that they abandon all of their own goals, both of this bodytime and other bodytimes, and allow to be forced into their place Huborg-determinism..... this as something solid, stable, and better than being dissociated, as above. When a person is "freed" from owning his own Theta-determined goals, this leaves a vacuum for the nearest "solid certainty" to moved into.

Just as with cycles of action, goals extend from a single body movement to, perhaps, many bodytimes. To the person well indoctrinated into believing that everything he has done is bad-- and being most comfortably-controllable and happy about it-- it is simple to convince him that every unfinished cycle of action is "bad."

Has anybody, in running "goals" processing ever uncovered a cycles of action that they proceed to do something about in present time? I betcha-- NO! The only purpose wherein the past, past bodytimes particularly, are contacted, is to paddy cake with the reactive mind in its purpose of "proving" that the past is simply awfully terrible, that present time is the only safe place to be. Boy, this is really serious stuff!

Again, Definition under 1952 Axiom 164. "NEUROTIC, THE COMPUTATION OF PRESENT TIME ONLY." Gradiently, the more a person is soaked into present moment, present body, present identity, etc. the closer this definition applies.

All of this is doing exactly the opposite of what Ron started out to accomplish. Ron sought to assist us to be more ourselves, the thotan. The thotan is good cause. O/W, with Joburg and other new Grim Hill comforts-controllability-happiness processes, cause us to so comfortably-controllable-happily identify ourselves with bad cause. One eastern attorney told me that his HGC intensive really cost him a lot of money. Since then, he has felt guilty every time he thought he was committing an overt act-- so he could not commit overt acts. That is a heck of a state for a lawyer to be in. I have had the same testimony from everyone who has been run extensively on these processes.....except from faithful, compliant, submissive, supine Huborgies.

Processing is as helpful as it increases understanding. The main thing it is helpful to understand is ourselves. When we break thru the facade of terrible things which the reactive mind foists upon us, we find that the past was, mostly, one heck of a lot of fun. Until we reach this status, so-called "clears" or anything else is but an artifice. This artifice, this apparancy will remain only as long as now terrible things from the past are not looked at. The moment that something now and terrible is looked at, byo

by pseudo-clarity. Ron's purpose in processing was to make players. Huborg activity does not align to this purpose. (Gad, what an understatement!) Ron, way back when, wrote a piece entitled, "ELEMENTS OF A GAME." It appears in Helen O'Brien's HF Notebook, which has to do with the Phila. Doc. Course. The following is an excerpt: (In parentheses; mine)

How to make pieces. Definition, from same source: Piece. Obeys rules as dictated by players, doesn't know rules. (Referred to as like a piece in a chess game)

Deny there is a game.

(If you could but look, you would find some mighty interesting games above those of present life identity. Ron's original purposes are to assist us to develop into a player. Huborg and PDHes are of a purpose to defeat this.)

Hide the rules from them.

(Obviously if one has securely secreted himself into present time, he does not know there are other games than present identity ones, and the rules are also hidden.)

Give them all penalties and no wins.

(All of the thotan goals, within Huborg, are as distant as they were-- pardon me: are more distant-- than they were in 1954. Every ACC, etc. is carefully set up to invalidate everything a person has previously known, identified himself with.... well, maybe not quite everything, but too damn much. High in this category is the non-granting of spiritual beingness by Huborg.)

non

Remove all goals.

(Well, what do you know? This is just what we have been talking about. How is this done? Well first you have lots of goals. It is perfectly true that a lot of these could be sluffed off to advantage. But, somehow, they all go by the boards except a few, then one, then none, then by some "miracle" one finds that the only goals one has just by the merest co-incidence, mind you, happens to co-incide with Huborg. Remarkable! PDHes have not a thing to do with it. Should not have said that. I hate sarcastic people. Except: As one does not know the real Huborg goals, really, I mean, on a thotan level-- tho they say differently-- all that one has is not a goal, but just a symbol-- of Huborg. Not true? Do YOU know what their game above this identity level is?)

per

Enforce their playing

(Every attempt is being made to do this. Remember when the franchises were first offered? "Who wants to volunteer?" Doj, once you volunteered you were sucked in-- but you did still have the thotan right to leave the game, so far. Then they started putting the clamps on, tighter,--tighter,--tighter. Lots of other examples.

Inhibit their enjoying (Real pleasure comes from setting up one's own theta-determined cycles of action, executing them. As with Communism Churchianity, Huborg, these are determined for you. Most randomness is minus, is plus for shock surprise, not too often optimism.

Make them look like but forbid their being players-- in God's image but can't be God.)

---- In Dr. L. Ron Hubbard's image, but can't be L. Ron Hubbard. Must be in the valence of-- but cannot BE. Lots of Dr.LRH valences walking around Huborg. Not one of them are very capable of creating an original thought of their own on the subject of Scientology. If they did, they would soon invalidate it, banish it. If they did not invalidate it, banish it, the first Huborgian they were to tell it to would invalidate it, and try to banish them.)

To make a piece continue to be a piece permit it to associate only with pieces and deny the existence of players.

(A franchised auditor is vulnerable to "losing" franchise is auditor coaudits with non-franchised auditors. Otherwise, have not to my knowledge, except on local levels in some places, gone too far with this one, overtly. However, a Huborgian is not in a games condition. They see and do practically nothing excepting thru their Huborg valence. There I go, generalizing again..... but, there are many examples.

One gal had on her own determinism recovered a considerable amount of data on past, interesting games, found it fun. Then she succumbed to Huborg. She wrote me that everything she had found on her own theta-determinism was, "Lies. Lies. Lies." that the only truth that there was was Huborg truth, that becoming Huborg was her "secret" goal from the very beginning. She also said, "I know that you will say that I have been PDEd." You are durned tootin' I believe that she has been PDEd. NO THETAN EVER RESCINDS HIS GALE THETA-DETERMINISM EXCEPTING UNDER HEAVY OTHER-DETERMINED DURESS. This gal even denied the existence of herself as a games player.

GOALS PROCESSING

Any doingness process is as good as it results in an increase in the ability of the preclear to set up his own Theta-determined actions in present time. The same holds for Goals Processes.

Several years ago, when Overt-withhold first came out, I published that I ran it, adding, "Tell me something you can(do)(withhold doing)." When it is run in this manner, he retains, even enhances his ability to set up future cycles of action. The person actually becomes more theta-determined, and somehow, ~~these~~ things from the past he brings up consist of about as many good things as bad ones. As this did not fit Huborg purpose, it was, of course, ignored.

Now, the same thing holds for Goals Processing. It should be interspersed with a command such as, "Find a present, interesting goal you can have." Thereby, your preclear will not feel that there is a dwindling spiral on goals, as they become scarcer and scarcer, in Huborg process.

After this command is completed, you could give, "Find an obstacle to the attaining of this goal."....."Find a symbol to represent this obstacle." Then, run vacuum cleaning procedure, guckify it. This does bear the presumption that the preclear is much on the lower side of games conditions, that the advance toward solution would be an aid. I think that you will find this to be usual. If he is a piece, it will advance him toward being a player.

Now, tell me; does the foregoing sound reasonable to you? Are you really willing and able to look at the ideas contained therein, willing to accept or reject them just as if Dr. L. Ron Hubbard had presented them?

If you cannot-- who really owns you? Ron has emphasized many times, "That which you cannot freely reach toward and withdraw from is aberrative." Again, can YOU freely accept or reject the ideas set down in this article? If you can, I will apologize if I call you a Hubbard's Witnesses.

"CLEAN HANDS"

The simplicity of "Clean HANDS" lies right in Ron's basic teachings. Ethics, as such, is totally the province of the Thetan. When a person is being and operating as himself, his true beingness he is basically ethical. In a Celiatan or similar group, each member willingly assumed full responsibility for an act of any other member of his group; just as if he had done it himself. This is a true third dynamic. Its basis is trust, full granting of beingness, understanding-- affinity, reality, communication. This simple goal is to be attained by moving gradiently in that direction. In Scientology, it is done thru using processes that assist us to be more and more ourselves as Thetans, less and less ourselves as this life identities.

Further, the essence of the black side game, at lower levels, is-- betray. Wins are gotten thru pretending to be something else, masquerading, until the crucial moment, then boom-- betrayal, usually thru some phase of terror. Ron was thusly betrayed many times in Dianetics, early Scientology. PDHes have served as a splendid antidote for this condition. Apparently, it has been this side help alone did not suffice. So, a police type dossier system, based upon-- I am told-- the methods employed by the Soviets, has been installed. It is known as the Johannesburg Security Check.

Overt-withhold processes implant within the stimulus-response, present lifetime identity, the comfortable certainty-- way below conscious level-- that everything (and the reactive mind allows only bad thing to come into present awareness) that has happened in the past is of your causation-- your BAD causation. So, therefore, it is not safe to create any cycles of action in present time; as they are bound to be bad-- just like all past ones are.

What this does is to make it unsafe for you to be yourself, as a Theta-determined entity-- as your causation is bound to be bad. This foul trick has been pulled on thetans hundreds of times up and down the track-- is still being pulled by Churchianities, Commies, Huborg. O/W alone is novel.

Now, a thetan-in-a-body feels that he has to be "something" have an identity. It is the purpose of Huborg to see to it that Huborg becomes his substitute identity. As this happens, he as a personality drops from the level of Selfishness to Selflessness (As per issue #32).

How do you really snap this trap shut good and tight? Perhaps, the best way is to convince the victim, "I know something about you, and only you and I know about it.... ~~and I won't tell anybody about it~~.... and I won't tell anybody about it--as long as you do just as I say." A variation on this is, "I know something about you--- and you do not know what it is I know about you..... etc." Man, when they get that socked in, they are trapped good and solid. But, there is even more--

They tell you, "we are doing this for your own good. You are not to be trusted. That is why we are doing this for you. But, you MUST have infinite trust and faith in us. We are good. We say so. We tell you this. If you think an unkind thought about Mary Sue you will die just like --- did." Think this is exaggerated? You should hear some of the commands I get when recovering PDHes. Who gives PDHes? Let's just say, they are commies.

I do know of an attorney who does believe that Huborg is a commie organization, tho. He went down there to take a course, ECA. All was fine until Joburg. He recognized this as a "from this time on" source of potential blackmail. He refused to take it. They put pressure on him. He then began looking at this and a lot of other things. He had spent a considerable amount of time with U.S. Gov., on anti-communist investigation squad. He says that he found commieorg methods being duplicated in Huborg. So, he believes that Huborg is commie. The payoff came when he was about to leave, he alleges that he was told, "We know that you are a commie." I have heard many stories of similar accusations, like the nice little old lady came out wailing, from a Sec. Check, "But I'm not a commie. I'm not a commie."

This is a serious thing; and do I hate to be serious! This attorney tells me that he had another reputable west coast law office check it, and they stated that a Joburg check sheet is admissable in court as evidence. He also says that these sheets are known to exist, and can be subpoenaed by ANYONE. Your spouse could get them for divorce use, for example.

When one is given, you are told to keep the answers within this body lifetime. But, the reactive mind is apt to slip to past body track at any time. You and I know this, but the court does not, and no plea to this effect could be made. That past body "crimes" were not committed by your present body.

Some months ago, this lawyer stated, he apprised Dr. L. Ron Hubbard of the above facts, asked him to discontinue this practice. No reply. So, I herein plead: discontinue this practice, and destroy Joburgs now on file.

Know what they tell victims? Because we have this on you, you will not commit these acts again. Just like a police department saying that if they have a dossier on a criminal, he will not commit these particular crimes. The records indicate this to be very untrue.

As far as I can look, every high order of truth is found in Ron's basic teachings. Following these teachings, using them to assist the thetan to increase his awareness, abilities, beingness is travelling down the main highway of Scientology. Comfort-Controllability-Happiness process which decrease thetan awareness, cause the being to consider himself to be more and more just a this life identity, is but travelling down dark alleys. That is the simplicity of it .
